

Winter Haikus

By Ermyn Roberts

Trees

Undressed, outstretched, tall,
Branches bending, bitter winds,
Sunshine gifts, new strength.

Snow

Softly landing flakes,
Whiteness blankets the cold grounds,
Hardens, glistens, pure.

Fireplace

Crackling sounds beckon,
Dancing flames twirl, red, yellow,
Cozy warmth abounds.