

THE DARK CLOUD

Debbie Bennighof- Arizona

Hangs

Over

Head

Some of us never see it.

Others are consumed by it.

- Concern and worry set in.

Some want it to go away.

Others stand up to it.

-Expressing the need for sunshine.

Some feel useless.

What to do?

What to do?

What to do?

Some will hide like an ostrich with its head in the sand.

Others...

Oh yes, those others,

Will bring warmth to their surroundings.

Reach out to others in need.

Focus on loving, kind behaviors to all they know, and some they don't.

Grasp the tangible of how they can push that Dark Cloud
